Works in Progress & Meet the Artists – Free Online Broadcasting
18/12, 2-5 p.m, www.kinitiras.com/transitionecb

Thank you for being with us on this special day.

You can participate in the event either via Zoom or via YouTube. Both platforms will be offering the same possibilities and questions for the artists coming from both platforms will be taken into account. If you have a YouTube account (Gmail / google), we suggest you use the YouTube link, as the process will be simpler for you. The working language of the event is English.

Join via YouTube:

Just log in to the link published here <https://www.kinitiras.com/transitionecb/online-broadcasting/?lang=en>), as well as on the social media of Transition ECB and Kinitiras. You will be able to ask questions by writing your name and your question in the same message, in the chat to the right of the video.

Join via Zoom:

If you prefer this way, the necessary link will be sent to you by the production secretariat (info@kinitiras.com). The works in progress will be displayed on the website and YouTube channel of Kinitiras. At the beginning of the event you will be given the relevant link which you can return to each time there is a video display. After each screening, the discussion will return to the Zoom Meeting, where you will be able to ask your questions using the chat on the right. To do this, please write your name and your question / comment in the same message.

Alternatively you can "raise hand" in the chat.

It is necessary to have your cameras and microphones off during the screening while you are watching, without participating in the conversation.

We are looking forward to meet you
